

THE NEWS HERALD

Live From Iraq!

March 10, 2006

Standing in front of his bulletin board of family photos at Camp Taji near Baghdad, U.S. Air Force Maj. Shiloh Fischer, left, got to see for the first time his baby daughter, Aubrey Fischer, 6 weeks, while Aubrey was held by her mother, Jennifer Fischer, during a videoconference at Florida State University-Panama City Friday. Photo by Terry Barner/ The News Herald

Jennifer Fischer, left, joins her daughters, Aubrey Fischer, 6 weeks, Caroline Fischer, 3, Ellie Jo Fischer, 4, and Georgia Kate, 2, in singing the Christian children's song "Deep and Wide" as the girls videoconferenced with their father, U.S. Air Force Maj. Shiloh Fischer, who is stationed in Iraq, at Florida State University-Panama City Friday. Maj. Anderson is deployed out of Tyndall Air Force Base and is due to return home later this year. Photo by Terry Barner/ The News Herald

The Fischer children wave to their father during a videoconference at Florida State University-Panama City Friday, March 10, 2006. Photo by Terry Barner/ The News Herald

Jennifer Fischer holds her daughter, Aubrey Fischer, 6 weeks, as she talks with her husband in Iraq Friday during a videoconference at Florida State University-Panama City. Photo by Terry Barner/ The News Herald